From Our CEO

It is a privilege to work with such a great team of professionals who are committed to serving others, and a board of directors who are passionate about helping seniors and their caregivers.

One of my primary objectives for 2020 is to communicate to our local and national leaders that keeping our seniors healthy, active, and engaged is of great value to our communities. Not only do our seniors bring stability to the family structure and proven expertise to the workforce – they are the driving force behind our local economy. Did you know that our 60+ population controls 70% of our community’s disposable income, or that the annual value of senior volunteers amounts to millions of dollars annually to each of our localities? When we invest in our senior infrastructure (keeping our seniors healthy and active) our local economy thrives.

Keeping seniors active, healthy, and engaged is what SSSEVA does through our many and diverse programs and services. Our Wellness program under the leadership of Shelby Craig promotes fitness, nutrition, and socialization. The Center for Aging led by Brad Lazernick assists with transitioning back home after a hospital stay, caregiver education and support, at home evaluations, home care, senior companions, veterans directed care, and health benefits counseling. Tabitha Smith, our Director of Transit, coordinates all our transportation services that assists seniors in getting where they need to go – a critical community service. Additionally, Anne Williams is overseeing our first step into affordable senior housing as we bring the Hayden Village Center in Franklin online. Finally, our development and marketing team led by Debbie Schwartz, builds awareness of our programs and services through our community, and works to raise funds to sustain SSSEVA’s mission. Her team plans and implements our signature event, the annual Art of Healthy Aging that sends a message to our community (both businesses and individuals) that SSSEVA is an organization based on quality, respect, and honor.

2020 will prove to be an exciting year as Senior Services of Southeastern Virginia looks to find new and innovative ways to keep our seniors healthy, active, and engaged.

From Our Board President

Fiscal year 2019 was a year of transition in many ways for SSSEVA. In his first full year at the helm, CEO Steve Zollos challenged his leadership to begin looking seriously at new business opportunities that will drive SSSEVA strategically into the next decade while serving to sustain the organization financially. Over the year, several staff changes took place. With the retirement of her predecessor, Shelby Craig stepped into the role of Director of Wellness, prompting promotions within her department – Caitlyn Allen moved up to the role of Nutrition Supervisor overseeing the congregate nutrition program, and Angelica Yankauskus stepped into the role of Wellness Supervisor managing the Meals on Wheels program. Late in the year, the Wellness Department also welcomed a new Evidence-Based Program Supervisor, Crystal Bynum. In Transit, former Mobility manager Tabitha Smith stepped up to Department Director. I want to acknowledge SSSEVA’s leadership for realizing the value of giving its employees the training and mentorship that enables them to grow into new roles. As SSSEVA moves into 2020, the staff and board of directors looks forward to opening of the Hayden Village Center in Franklin. The Center promises to be the centerpiece for all things senior in Franklin and adjacent Southampton County.

SSSEVA continues to strive for new and better ways to serve its publics – senior citizens and caregivers alike. To accomplish that, the organization not only depends on the expertise and experience of its hard-working staff, but also on the financial support of its community of friends. In 2019, SSSEVA was awarded $710,419 in grants from private foundations to support innovation and sustain programs – and from local jurisdictions, who understand the importance of supporting a nonprofit that provides for their senior residents; and $168,809 from the United Way of South Hampton Roads and contributions from small businesses, big corporations and hundreds of individual donors who gave so generously. We mean it when we say, “we couldn’t do what we do without you.”

In mid-January 2020, I will sadly end my 3-year tenure as board president. It has been my honor and pleasure to serve this organization.

March for Meals

In March 2019, Senior Services of Southeastern Virginia (SSSEVA) helped to spill the beans on senior hunger. As a proud member of Meals on Wheels America (MOW), SSSEVA participates in the national organization’s annual “March for Meals” campaign. Throughout the month, we take time to spread awareness of the serious issue of food insecurity facing so many of our country’s elderly citizens. In celebration of the campaign’s “Community Champions Week,” March 18-22, 2019, SSSEVA invited local public officials, celebrities, and volunteer groups from Virginia Beach and Suffolk to visit the senior participants at two of SSSEVA’s senior center nutrition sites: Williams Farm Recreation Center in Virginia Beach and the East Suffolk Community Center in Suffolk. Our Community Champions — including U.S. Representative Elaine Luria (VA-02), Virginia Beach Mayor Bobby Dyer, Councilwoman Rosemary Wilson, and Department of Parks and Recreation Director Michael Kirschman — were among those who joined us at Williams Farm on March 18. Sylvia Murphy, Constituent Services Director for Rep. A. Donald McEachin (VA-04), Vice Mayor Leroy Bennett, Sheriff Everett “E.C.” Harris, and WAVY 13 Hampton Roads Show co-host Chris Reckling were amongst those who participated in Suffolk on March 21. All of the Community Champions served lunch, spoke one-on-one with program participants and learned firsthand about the most important issues facing our region’s seniors.

Coffee with Congress

On August 26, in partnership with the Alzheimer’s Association of Southeastern Virginia Chapter and the Peninsula Agency on Aging, SSSEVA co-hosted U.S. Rep. Bobby Scott (VA-3) at a Coffee with Congress event in Newport News. Invited guests, including clients of each agency, aging-industry professionals, and board members from each organization had the opportunity to share their personal stories, challenges and 2019 legislative priorities with Rep. Scott. At the end of the day, the congressman shared how appreciative he was to have had the opportunity to learn how pending federal legislation and proposed line items in the 2020 budget could positively or negatively impact the availability of services and supports for individuals and families back home in Hampton Roads.
51,820 congregate meals were served to 1,163 seniors at our nutrition sites in South Hampton Roads and Western Tidewater.

16 senior wellness center sites serve nutritious meals and offer participants opportunities for education and socialization.

107,363 home-delivered meals were enjoyed by 683 individuals living in South Hampton Roads and Western Tidewater.

900 seniors participated in 7 Senior Farmers Market nutrition, education and food preparation sessions.

In Fiscal Year 2019, 359 seniors participated in 26 group education sessions at SSSEVA’s congregate meal sites; 120 seniors participated in two March for Meals “Community Champions” nutrition education and cooking demonstration events; 10 seniors participated in new individual nutrition counseling sessions; and 10 seniors scheduled one-on-one nutrition education consults.

What’s New in Fiscal Year 2020
In early December 2019, Senior Services of Southeastern Virginia began an exciting partnership with Beth Sholom Village. Beth Sholom is now the provider of the congregate nutrition program lunches for the urban senior wellness and nutrition sites that SSSEVA serves. SSSEVA is continually striving to provide healthy, nutritious, tasty lunches for our seniors and we look forward to all that this new community partner has to offer. Kirsten Romero, MS, RD, a registered dietitian, works with the wellness program at SSSEVA. She provides group nutrition education at SSSEVA’s senior wellness and nutrition sites, and is also available to provide one-on-one nutrition coaching to both wellness center participants and SSSEVA’s Meals on Wheels clients.
9 Chronic Disease and Diabetes Self-Management workshops were held in Fiscal Year 2019 with a total of 54 sessions and 121 participants. This program offers small group discussion, problem solving, and small goal setting. It helps with things such as menu planning, proper diet and carbohydrate intake, blood sugar levels, and sick days. Each program is sponsored by the Virginia Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services and Live Well, Virginia!

100+ seniors participated in the 2019 Fall Prevention event at the East Suffolk Recreation Center. This event included health screenings, exercise classes, and workshops on preventing falls and fraud.

5 Matter of Balance workshops were held in Fiscal Year 2019 with a total of 40 sessions for 63 participants. This award-winning, eight-week program is designed to manage falls and increase activity levels. It includes a workbook designed for home awareness of trip hazards, safety tips, and how-tos to keep seniors safe and fall free.

Wellness Center Activities
Our Wellness Centers are located in area Parks and Recreation Senior Centers and other community partner host sites. Each site offers a unique atmosphere for engagement, socialization, fun, and independence for our seniors. They allow seniors to be a part of something bigger than themselves. The centers offer opportunities for events, workshops, nutritious meals, field trips, games, celebrations, and so much more.
I-Ride Transit services include fixed routes, medical transportation, and on-demand response. For its senior riders, I-Ride Transit provides the ability to get to medical appointments, thereby ensuring their access to healthcare. It also provides seniors, who are at risk of isolation, the ability to travel to area senior wellness and nutrition centers and adult day care.

SSSEVA is proud of our recent partnership with Sentara PACE, a Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly. SSSEVA provides medical transportation to Sentara PACE Churchland for individuals who have chosen to receive comprehensive medical services that allow them to remain in their home and community.

12,575 rides provided by I-Ride Transit on its fixed routes in Fiscal Year 2019.

269 rides provided through SSSEVA’s medical transportation partnership with Sentara PACE Churchland.

I-Ride Transit provides 3 fixed routes: Smithfield, Franklin, and Wards Corner in Norfolk.

Old Dominion University School of Nursing: In Fiscal Year 2019, SSSEVA partnered with Old Dominion University School of Nursing to provide students of its Community Health class the opportunity to engage with seniors in the community and obtain valuable insight that could be applied toward research papers and community-based projects. Throughout the year, students volunteered at our Senior Farmer’s Market Events, delivered meals to home-bound clients in the community, and established a health demo and hypertension/diabetes screening event for partner PrimePlus Senior Center in Norfolk. These students used the data they collected while in the community to present their findings on Hypertension Teaching in Older Adults of the Hampton Roads Area during their Community Health Presentation Event.

All that SSSEVA accomplishes each year would be impossible without help from our volunteers. Our volunteers spend tireless hours in our offices, in the communities we serve, and by assisting our staff at agency special events.

$1,000 Pruden Foundation for the Senior Companion Program

March for Meals

For Meals During 2019 March for Meals Community Champions Week, California Pizza Kitchen, Town Center in Virginia Beach hosted a three-day fundraiser – March 19-21 – to benefit SSSEVA’s nutrition programs. The restaurant donated 20% of the proceeds of each patron’s check for those who came in to support the fundraiser. We want to also thank SSSEVA’s staff, board of directors and other supporters who dined that week at CPK to show their support.
